Singapore Airlines & Cargo

27 October 2009

How is your shorter working month?

The next Joint Consultative Committee (JCC) meeting for Singapore Airlines and Cargo is due in December.

What's on the agenda?

We will be seeking updated information from Singapore management on the financial state of the company, the benefits the company has gained from staff giving up on wage increase and giving up days work and pay.

What do you think?

It is important for us to hear your views and concerns. Below are a few quick questions that will assist us in giving the Company feedback and will also guide us on what you consider reasonable for the next six months. Your individual responses will remain confidential.

The Quick Questions

- Have you given up? – (tick one)
  - 1 day a month
  - 1 day a fortnight
  - No days
- If you ticked no days, have you felt any pressure from managers or other staff to join the program?

Yes      No
- Do you think the short working month program is working?

Yes      No

- Are there other things you think the Company should be doing to reduce overheads?

- How is the workload in your area being managed?

---

---

- Have you got a much higher workload expectation?

Yes      No

- If the Company started making a profit would you want to continue with your one day less work and one day less pay?

Yes      No
